VOL. XIX.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1891.

NO. 63

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

J. B. Farris' shingle and grist mill was burned on the night of the 6th.

Rev. A. J. Pike, Dr. Eugene Brown and Wm. Sayers are attending the Grand Lodge in Louisville.

Mr. M. G. Durman and James Powell sold to J. H. Albright a nice lot of extra hogs at $3 to $3.50. Bob Thompson is buying cattle in our county.

Rev. A. J. Pike, assisted by Rev. W. F. Holtzclaw, of Jeffersonville, Ind., will begin a series of meetings at the Baptist church, beginning on Oct. 12 at 7 p.m.

W. D. Azvillsand wife, from Annville, Jackson county, John Crowley, of Williamsburg, and Arch Moles, of Pulaski county, were in our town to see Dr. Burdett about their eyes.

The cold wave that the signal service has been telling us about so long reached here last Sunday night, accompanied by a nice rain. Both were highly appreciated. We are glad to be cool once more.

Wesley and Clel Smith, Levy Denney and Jack Wiggins, all of the Glade district, were arrested and tried, being accused of riding horses without the knowledge or consent of the owners. They were held over and not being able to give bail, were sent to jail.

Wheat sowing has been delayed on account of dry weather, but since the rain seeding has been renewed with new vigor. The acreage will be larger than usual. Our farmers have learned that wheat growing can be made profitable by using fertilizers, deep plowing and proper preparation of the soil. J. C. Rimes bought $30 worth of Currier's fertilizer from Albright & Co., put it on 10 acres of corn and he says it has made him $75 worth of corn more than it would have made. He demonstrated this by leaving part of the field without any fertilizer. He also says he has seen other makes of fertilizers, but Currier's makes the best crops.

Mr. J. H. Melvin, of Dillon and Ed Melvin, of London, spent Sunday in Brodhead. They and Jack Melvin have just returned from Owensboro, where they had been to see their parents. Henry Bower and wife John Wise and wife, of Ohio, were summoned by dispatch to the bedside of their father, Michael Bower, who died before they arrived. You have had notice of the death of Mr. Bower, which was caused by blood poisoning. He was buried in the cemetery at the Christian church Monday. Rev. A. J. Pike gave a very appropriate talk; had reading and prayer. A very large crowd assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased. By his death his wife loses a true and faithful husband, the children a kind and loving father and the community a good citizen. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

HUBLE.

Mr. Ben Smith went home with his brother living in Lexington, Tuesday morning. His wounds are all healed up nicely. Drs. Cook and Peyton deserve great credit for the way they dressed and attended to his wounds. Mr. Gentry's family should never be forgotten for their kindness in seeing him carefully nursed while at their place. Dr. Kinnaird was out to see us last Saturday, for the first time since his illness. He has been badly missed as he is a knowing young doctor and had to drop a large practice for a few weeks. He tells us he is going to attend lectures in New York in December. Clarence Smith, of Hedgeville, is not expected to live but a few days. He has lung trouble.—We got the L. J.'s, by Lancaster on Tuesday morning this week, so let them come that way all the time.—Eggs have advanced in our town to 15 cents. This is the place to get rid of your old roosters, ducks and geese at a fair price. Joe Swope will begin to build a barn soon in the place of the one burned.—M. Luce is covering his dwelling.—J. W. Bright has gone on a fishing expedition at Spillman's mill.—R. L. White has sold his last spring crop of wool at 23 cents per pound.—Mrs. Wm. Underwood has been on the sick list a few days, but is better. R. R. Gentry seems to be making votes as he canvasses this neighborhood.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Mr. Evan Foley, a widower of 51 and Mrs. H. S. Elmore, 43, and twice a widow, were married at Mr. F. J. Jones', near Preachersville, Wednesday. The groom is a citizen of Whitley, and the bride is from Rockcastle, and they were visiting Mr. Jones, where they fell in love.

Card of Thanks.

To the Editor Interior Journal.
We wish to publicly return our thanks to the people of McKinney and vicinity for their assistance and kindness to us at the time of the burning of our home recently. B. SMITH AND WIFE.

Regular daily trains now run to Irvine.

YELLOWSTONE PARK.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

Thinking it might be interesting to many of your readers and to friends in my "Old Kentucky Home," you can give it a place in your valuable paper if esteemed worthy.

On leaving Superior City I had no idea of taking this trip, but at the solicitation of friends concluded to do so. Leaving the main line of the N. P. railroad at Livingston, Mont., a ride on a branch road of 52 miles brought us to a point where the railroad stopped and stage coaches were in readiness to convey all to the Hot Springs in the Park. Some 25 constituted the party. For a special traveling companion I had a Mr. Thompson, son of St. Louis, a member of the legal fraternity and a most genial and intelligent person. In a very short time after taking stage our attention was called to an eagle's nest. A brood of two eaglets were quietly nesting upon a rocky peak, distant from the stage road only some 50 yards. Further travel showed these noble birds in goody numbers, never evincing any alarm at the approach of travelers. After a trip of 7 miles, for the most part up a steep mountain, we stopped for the night at the Hot Springs Hotel, a commodious building, with a porch of some 400 feet. From the hotel half a mile are a number of hot springs bubbling up from the mountain tops, the water so hot you can cook an egg in it in two minutes. 'Tis said the bear and elk come near these springs in winter because of the warm temperature. These springs are a wonder and an admiration. Next morning the party started for a five and one-half days' trip through the park. After mountain climbing for several miles we came to the "Golden Gate," a gap in the mountain noted for its beauty and for the great labor and cost to get a roadway over it. A beautiful cascade leaps from the summit and dashes down the gulch with Niagara velocity. The cliffs on either side of the roadway are high and golden in color. Here several kodos were brought into use to portray and perpetuate the grandeur and beauty of the scenery. After passing through the "gate" we came to an extensive plateau of land, grass-covered, and must afford grazing for the wild animals which abound here. This plain extends for miles until we come to "Mary's Mountain," the highest on our route. Before reaching its summit the aforesaid Mr. Thompson, who was on the outside with the driver, discovered a buffalo lying down. Stopping the stage, a passenger and myself essayed to catch sight of this representative of an almost extinct race, but it fled and was not to be seen by us. In a short distance we found a fresh buffalo track. On top of "Mary's Mountain" is a beautiful lake, called "Mary's Lake." In descending this mountain our Jehu pointed out the place where a year or so ago two buffaloes ran across the road just as the stage was passing, breaking the pole of the vehicle and greatly frightening the passengers. Of this occurrence I remember to have seen a newspaper account just after it happened.

"Tame wild geese," ducks and eagles are seen all along the route. In the evening we reached the Fountain House, another fine hotel. From this place several geysers can be seen. After a good night's rest we resumed our journey, traveling all day in the midst of hot springs and eruptive geysers. Hot springs, clear as crystal, colored like sapphire, emerald and turquoise kept the mind in constant wonder and admiration. Never have I felt more keenly the barrenness of language suitable to express my awe at the marvelous sights which were constantly being met. The "Excelsior Geyser," the largest of any in the formation, was in a state of comparative quiet; it had not erupted since last fall, when it belched forth volumes of sulphurous, burning water and massive stone, the water causing the "Fire Hole" river to rise four feet. The most satisfactory of all the geysers is the "Old Faithful," so called because it never fails to play every 65 minutes, sending up a volume of water 100 feet high as large as a sugar hogshead. Near "Old Faithful" are several interesting geysers—"The Lion," "Lioness" and "Cubs," two of which frequently play at the same time; the "Bee Hive," which sends up its boiling water to a great height, the in volume less than some others; the "Sponge" is so called from its close resemblance at its base to a sponge.

ONE DOLLAR

To See the Nancy Hanks-Allerton Race. The report in circulation that the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association intends charging two or three dollars to see the race between Allerton and Nancy Hanks, at Lexington, Thursday, Oct. 15, is untrue and without authority of the Club. We adhere strictly to old prices, and during the meeting the price of admission will be only $1 for men and 50 cents for ladies, except the confederate will meet next year at Louisville.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

Parties from a distance attending the trots and do not desire hotel accommodations, should apply to R. S. Strader & Son, 74 East Main street, for rooms. These gentlemen are our committee and have under them clerks to wait on the public and boys to show them quarters. This step is taken in order that no exception can be practised on strangers.

Respectfully, ED. A. TIPROX, Sec'y.

John and Beth Parton shot and mortally wounded Alvis Parton, on Clear Creek, in Bell county. Policeman Parton, of Pineville, and a posse went to arrest them when Beth escaped and John opened fire on the officer. The policeman returned the fire and shot John twice with his Winchester, once through the abdomen and once through the head. The wounds are fatal.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. Ben Helm is attending the Synod at Greenville.

This river just below the falls to the eye in size seems but a rivulet, and as the sun casts its rays upon it, looks like a ribbon of gold. About a quarter of a mile below the falls is a most enchanting view. Near by we saw an eagle's nest, with the young birds watching for the return of their progenitors, who were sailing or soaring for trout with which to feed their young. One of our party saw an eagle with a good sized trout in his talons, but he failed to bring it to the nest. The eagle, when looking for fish, on discovering one, shoots down in a straight line with arrow-like swiftness and secures his prey unerringly.

We saw where the beavers worked and made their dams, also their houses, or huts, built in the water. No civil engineer could evince greater skill in constructing these dams for the purposes for which they are designed.

As this desultory communication is already too prolix, I will close it by giving one or two other descriptions. Of many more that might be mentioned, one is what is termed the Glass Mountain. This mountain had to be blown up by dynamite before a roadway could be secured.

Fragments of this glass, or rather what looks like glass, lie in profusion along the roadside, and indeed the road for several hundred feet is macadamized with it.

We were permitted to take a few specimens, although the rule is that nothing in the formation shall be taken away.

There are said to be some 400 elk in the park and 75 buffaloes, while bears are innumerable.

When at Yellowstone Park a traveling friend came hurriedly up to my room where I was lolling and cried "Get up, colonel, and see a bear!" So on raising the window, sure enough there was bruin, standing erect on his hind feet, taking in the situation. After a few minutes he ran to the woods. It was in open ground we saw him. The proprietor told me that these animals came right up to the hotel in search of something to eat. The night we were at the falls two came to the back porch of the hotel and turned over the slop tubs. Bears are more numerous than hogs in all the country near the Rocky Mountains. No persons are allowed to shoot them, or any game in the Yellowstone Park.

Leaving the upper basin of the park we returned by a more westerly route, traveling for miles up Gardiner river, a rabid and precipitous stream, one of the headwaters of the Missouri. On this stream are several noted springs—the "Soda Spring" and a fountain whose water is precisely in taste with that of the celebrated Apollinaris water.

Returning to Livingston and having to wait several hours for the Pacific bound train, the time was spent in looking at the sights. A mountain sheep, of steel-mixed color, with patches of white on the hips, smooth hide with no wool, was pointed out as the only living specimen which had been tamed. A mountain goat was also seen here, white, with his body covered with a hairy wool.

Last, but not least, a mountain lion, the fiercest and most ferocious beast that roams the Rockies. At nightfall we took the train, Mr. T. and myself, for Seattle, the "Queen City of the Sound."

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., OCTOBER 9, 1891

W. P. WALTON.

COL. JOHNSON, in the last issue of the Capital, gives some facts and figures that are interesting to the public in connection with the late con. con., from which we extract: The body was in session 226 days and the per diem of members amounted to $131,763 and the mileage account to $8,192.20, nearly every delegate drawing for two round-trips, notwithstanding nearly all had free railroad tickets. Mileage is figured at 15 cents a mile going and returning from the capital. A delegate living 100 miles away therefore drew $60 from the treasury for the two round-trips. If he had a pass he made $50 clear money. If he paid his fare it was at the rate of 3 cents per mile and the two round trips cost him $12, and he therefore made $48 at the expense of the tax-payers. The stenographer who took down the speeches in shorthand, cost $9,425 and the editor who tried to put them in presentable shape got $1,709. Postage on these speeches, printed in the Record, cost $5,000 and 10,000 copies of them are now lying in the Senate cloak room, on which there are $200 worth of stamps. The colored cloak room keeper, whose principal business was to bring whisky to the delegates and keep a regular barroom, was paid $791 out of the State treasury. There were many other leaks to swell the grand total of the cost of the convention, whose members rode on free passes and got pay for it, at the same time they were voting to make it a horrible offense and without other fantastic tricks, that made not only the angels weep, but caused the tax-payer to groan in the agony of prospective increase of his burden.

The commission to revise the statutes met at Frankfort Tuesday and organized by electing Mr. McChord chairman and H. H. Smith, member of the late con. con., from Hardin, secretary. Owing to their individual private business they will not get down to work till Oct. 26, after which they will remain in continuous session at Frankfort till the job is completed, which some say will take a year. Its expenses will be about $50 a day. Strange as it may seem it is sent out from the capital that the commission agreed that they did not arrogate to themselves all knowledge of law, but would gladly hear and consider any suggestions that might be made to them from lawyers or other persons who might believe he knows something that may be of use to the commission in the great task ahead of them.

THE county school superintendent of Bell admitted negroes into the white Teachers' Institute, but he wishes now he had not been so previous. The whites were greatly outraged and appealed at once to the State superintendent, who responded that any white teacher would be relieved from attendance on mixed institutes. The negroes were sent home and the superintendent will wish many times he had staid at his before the teachers get through with him. They have no objection to his consorting with negroes if he wishes, but they beg to be allowed to choose their own company.

CHARLES STEWART PARNELL, who was the great Irish leader till he sold his birthright for a woman's smiles, died suddenly at Brighton, Tuesday night. It will be remembered that his liaison with the wife of Capt. Shea caused the Captain to get a divorce, which was granted after a trial, which brought out much evidence of a scandalous nature. Parnell afterwards married Mrs. Shea and the doubly widowed is free to exert her wiles on some other man.

THE last Legislature, through courtesy to the member from Crittenden county, passed a whipping post law especially for that county, and last week it had its first application. A couple of negroes were given the lash on their naked backs for stealing chickens and the local paper says the result was most satisfactory. The negroes are not likely to steal any more, leastwise if they do they are determined not to get caught.

SENATOR CARLISLE has laid us under obligations for public documents, including the able report of Uncle Jerry Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture. It is profusely illustrated and charmingly entertaining, and will make good reading for these long winter nights for those who like that kind of literature, of whom we regret to say we are not which. Uncle Jerry can't tell us anything about farming.

MARY county court has ordered a vote to be taken on a subscription of $100,000 to the Kentucky Midland, the constitution to the contrary notwithstanding. Judge Lindsay, president of the railroad, and the best lawyer in the State, says he is going to make it a test case in the courts, confident of his ability to win.

OWING to the continued and increased demand on its columns by the advertisers, who know a good thing, the Danville Advocate has increased its size to an 8-column. Its proprietors evidently have a gold mine and we are glad to see this further evidence of it.

THE annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the L. & N. was held at Louisville, Wednesday. The annual report shows the number of miles owned absolutely by the company to be 2,498.11; while the number of miles of road leased, operated or interested in is 2,210.19. The bonded debt outstanding is $36,775,600, an increase over last year of $10,545,000. The gross earnings were $19,220,728.62 and the net $7,162,284.03. The equipment is 14,515 cars and 477 locomotives. There were carried during the year 5,276,618 passengers, an increase of nearly 2 per cent. The freight carried amounted in tons to 9,965,516, an increase of over 4 per cent. After hearing and approving the report the following officers were elected: Milton H. Smith, president; Stuart R. Knott, 1st vice-president; A. M. Quarier, 2d vice-president; W. J. Wood, 3d vice-president; R. H. Ingram, assistant to the president; A. H. Ellis, secretary. The election of Mr. Knott to the 1st vice-presidency is a very gratifying compliment to a young man who is destined to reach the top round in railroad management. He is at present the traffic manager and for awhile at least will combine the duties of the two offices. The L. & N. is the greatest corporation in the South and one of its beauties is that it gives its worthy and aspiring young men a chance to realize an honest ambition.

The dirty republican sheets, including the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, in the absence of anything of an official nature to urge against Governor Campbell, have been casting reflections on his honor by charging that he has been making debts that he could not pay until the amount has reached $500,000 or more. Not recognizing that as a legitimate weapon of political warfare and claiming its entire falsity, Gov. Campbell has given these sheets the choice of retracting or defending a suit for libel and it is amusing to see them try to squirm out of a most disreputable business. If the Ohio people are as chivalrous as they ought to be they will resent such dirty work by re-electing Gov. Campbell by an overwhelming majority.

NEWSY NOTES.

—The King of Wurtemburg, Karl I, is dead.

—Gen. W. H. F. Lee, of Virginia, did not die, as reported, we are glad to say.

—Judge J. D. Belden, of Lebanon, was acquitted in the U. S. Court of violating the pension laws.

—Three persons were cremated and many others were hurt by the burning of a five-story tenement house in New York.

—Indians, it is said, massacred 200 English and German colonists who attempted to settle on their lands in Mexico.

—Police raided the New York city pool-room while the Jerome Park races were in progress. They bagged 35 prisoners and $3,184 in cash.

—Jim Burley was shot and instantly killed at Shelbyville by Frank Ashby, because the former was standing with his hand on the shoulder of the latter's best girl. Both colored.

—A runaway horse in a funeral procession of 40 carriages, at Des Moines, caused the upsetting of a dozen vehicles, the killing of four persons and the wounding of many others.

—The average cost of the children in the Masonic Home at Louisville, is $114.09 annually. The institution has an endowment fund of $176,262.94.

—The Leland Stanford, Jr., University has been opened at Palo Alto, Cal. It has an endowment of $15,000,000 and it is announced that even that magnificent fund has to be greatly increased.

—The enrollment of Indian pupils for the year just ended was 17,296, an increase over the preceding year of 1,549. The commissioner thinks that education is the only solution of the Indian problem.

—The Greenlee and Forest well on the Mevy farm at McDonald, Pa., is the wonder of the world. It is now flowing 600 barrels an hour, or 14,400 barrels per day. It is the greatest oil producer ever known.

—Dr. S. M. Letcher, of Richmond, a brother of Mrs. M. T. Durbin, died Sunday night from the effects of a fall. He was a grand son of ex-Chief Justice Robertson and a grand-nephew of ex-Gov. Letcher.

—Thieving Teller Ritter, of the First National Bank of Evansville, got $75,000 in money and now gets 6 years in the penitentiary. They seem to order this thing everywhere better than in Kentucky.—Times.

—The Phillipsburg, Pa., bank closed its doors, announcing its suspension on account of the continuous demand of depositors for their money. Frequent failures have shaken confidence in all banks in that section.

—The earnings for the fiscal year for the C. & O. were $8,127,111.00 gross and $2,202,392.89 net. The number of passengers carried during the year were 1,602,072, as against 1,470,642 the previous year, an increase of 15 per cent. President Ingall's report shows the C. & O. to be in a flourishing condition.

—Nearly 100,000 people witnessed the unveiling of the bronze monument of Gen. Grant in Lincoln Park, Chicago. The ceremonies were elaborate. The oration of the day was delivered by Judge Walter Q. Gresham. The statue is the largest and most artistic equestrian casting ever made in America.

—Wm. Ahl has been appointed postmaster at Cloverport in place of Miss Matthews, who declined. Miss Henley, the incumbent, was appointed by Mr. Cleveland.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Frank Hayden sold to White, of Rockcastle, a small bunch of yearling heifers and steers at $10.50.

—FOR SALE.—Several thoroughbred Black Berkshire pigs, both sexes, 6 weeks old, at $3 to $4 apiece. J. Blain, Stanford.

—Mr. A. R. Penny sold for his wife to John C. Pepples 67 acres of the old Boone farm, lying on Dix river, at $37.50.

—Moses Kahn purchased of Thomas Henry Clay, of Bourbon county, 245 fat cattle, averaging about 1,500 pounds, at $4 each.

—In Cincinnati best shippers bring 5¢ and best butchers 4¢; for hogs 5¢ is the top of the market; sheep 2 to 4¢, lambs 4¢ to 5¢.

—As Administrator of Stamp Turpin I will sell at 10 o'clock, on county court day, a Harkaway stud colt and brood mare; also an Alderney heifer calf. Richard and Robinson.

—W. H. Leach sold to farmers in Scott and Fayette counties 1,200 stock ewes at an average of about $4.50. He also shipped this season 2,500 lambs.—Georgetown Times.

—In the Hal Pointer-Direct pacing match race at Terre Haute Pointer won in three straight heats. They had won a heat apiece the day before when k ness shut off the race.

—W. O. Brock bought of John Goode 100 hogs to weigh 200 pounds and upwards Nov. 15th to 25th at 4 cents.—Winchester Democrat.

—The Richmond News South says: Albermarle county's (Va.) pippin crop is described as simply immense, and never of better quality. One fruit raiser last week sold 600 barrels of pippins at $2.75 a barrel and he has 1,400 barrels yet on the trees. It now only costs $1 to send a barrel of apples to Liverpool.

—MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mr. D. N. Williams had a valuable cow to choke to death on an apple.

—Willis Adams' three children are down with diphtheria. They are convalescing.

—Trains of reimported whisky are beginning to move over this line from Norfolk to Louisville and other points.

—Our local Irish wit was recently addressed as a "big-headed Irishman." He immediately retorted: "If my head was as large as your feet I'd cut it off and throw it away."

—One of the accused Pulaski parties boarded the train here several days since for Missouri. On arrival at his destination he was intercepted by a messenger from Somerset and is now in jail awaiting requisition papers from Kentucky.

—Four men, whose names we have not ascertained, were tried in Squire Elder's court, in the Glade precinct, Monday, on the charge of horse stealing. They were held over in the sum of $250 each. Being unable to bond, they were brought here and jailed.

—Mr. Michael Bower, whose death was mentioned in your last issue, owned a small farm in Ohio on which oil wells are in operation by an oil company. Mr. Bower's income from the lease has been for a long time paying him from $45 to $60 per day, or more than $2 per hour.

—The cigarette smokers of this place were in sore distress here a few days ago when it was discovered a morning that the supply was entirely exhausted and not one could be found in the place. Messages were wired to neighboring towns to rush forward enough to save the slaves to the fool killers.

—Owing to the remarkably small death rate shown by the census enumerators of this county, their reports were returned from the census department with instructions for a more searching inquiry by the enumerators. The department also expressed surprise at the small number on the list and intimated that carelessness had been shown. But after a thorough examination and careful inquiry, but one more death could be discovered over the number already reported. Rockcastle claims the distinction of showing the smallest death rate of any county in the State.

—Mr. John M. Williams is attending lectures in a medical college with a view of making a M. D. of himself.

—The Pine Hill Coal Co. has closed down till a better understanding can be had with its miners, or until they can get other men.

—Miss Mattie Newcomb is visiting Mrs. G. W. Roberts, Louisville. County Attorney McClure went to Pulaski Wednesday to attend a wedding. Mrs. R. L. Stark and sister, Mrs. M. Sharpe, are visiting friends at Jellico. The writer is indebted to Aunt Elizabeth Newcombe for a plate of "possum and sweet taters."

—Mr. Harry C. Weber, son of W. W. Weber, of this place, has purchased a third interest in a wholesale saddle and harness manufacturing establishment in Knoxville and is at present traveling for his house through North Carolina and the southern States. Harry has the qualifications to make a successful business man.

—Ans Robbins, who got 50 days on the rock pile at last court, walked off Wednesday. The marshal will bring him in again soon to finish out his time. Ans' trouble was caused by his filling up on tanglofoot and running the folks from home at Mr. H. Barnett's, breaking windows, etc. When one of the family brought out a gun to shoot him, he took it from its owner and broke it over the cooking stove.

—Mart Owens was in town Wednesday on his return from Livingston. Mart is 72 years of age and has retained his vitality remarkably well. He can wrestle with the best of them. He still works regularly and no hand can get in more work in a day than he. Says he began drinking whisky when he was 9 years old and has made a good hand at it ever since. He has studied about quitting the use of liquor, but thinks there's little use now as all his best days are past and he will indulge unto the end, though if he could live his life over he'd never use it.

—How eager many people are to see their names and their friends' names in the papers, yet how slow some of them are to subscribe and pay for them! I have had quite a number in my experience who have given in items concerning themselves or their friends for publication and on publication days they will watch the post office so as to borrow from some subscriber to the paper to see the items. It is a matter of surprise how many people of this class are to be found, and more surprising to know that in the ranks of those who are able to pay the greatest number of this description are found.

Our Teachers.

Programme for the Teachers' Association, to be held at Goshen, Oct. 17. The exercises are to commence promptly at 6:30 P. M.

PERSONAL POINTS.

TOM FERRILL has engaged in business at Paris.

MISS MATTIE TRIBBLE is back from Christian county.

MR. AND MRS. H. S. WITHERS went to Louisville Tuesday.

Mrs. G. B. COOPER is visiting her parents at Hustonville.

Mrs. LOU SHANKS left yesterday to visit friends in Lexington.

EDITOR E. B. SMITH, of Mt. Vernon, was in to see us yesterday.

MR. T. S. WEBB, of Booneville, N. Y., is visiting Miss Helen Saufley.

MR. J. A. HAMMONDS, our wide-awake Hubble reporter, was here yesterday.

MISS ANNIE BAUGHMAN went to Louisville Wednesday to spend a few days.

MRS. ELLEN McROBERTS went to Louisville Tuesday to visit the family of Judge Muir.

MISSSES SALLIE AND MATTIE ELKIN, of Lancaster, were over yesterday on a shopping tour.

EO. B. WEAREN went to Lexington yesterday, where he will likely enter W. R. Smith's business college.

MISS ANNIE WRAY returned from Louisville and Cincinnati Wednesday, where she bought dead loads of millinery.

MR. JOHN C. MCKEE, of London, was chosen very illustrious grand marshal by the Masonic Council at Louisville this week.

MR. A. R. PENNY is representing the Chapter and Mr. H. J. Darst the Blue Lodge of Masons here at the grand meetings in Louisville this week.

MRS. P. T. COURTS, our excellent postmaster, spent a few days in Louisville. Before leaving she swore in Joe Severance, Jr., to assist Miss Eddie Warren in the post-office.

MR. E. C. GAINES, our Logan's Creek scribe, will leave Monday for Washington and a tour of the East. It is probable that he is going for the purpose of getting a position on the New York World.

BUB ENGLEMAN, who has been connected with the grocery house of J. B. Foster for a number of years, and who has filled the position very acceptably, has engaged with Pearson & Clark, of Lexington. Jack Rout will succeed him here.

CITY AND VICINITY.

New line of lamps at Farris & Hardin's.

See our new line of sacking flannels, Severance & Son.

TAKE your eggs to J. S. Jones' this week and get 15 cents per dozen. Cash Bargain Store, opposite the Portman House.

W. G. NAPIER will on Monday next apply for license to sell liquors at Maywood. A protest, we understand, will be presented.

DON'T fail to see our line of ladies' misses' and children's cloaks. They are second to none in style, quality and price. Severance & Son.

ALE.—Good frame house of four rooms with half acre lot attached. Conveniently located in Stanford. Cistern and necessary outbuildings. Apply to W. A. Tribble.

ATTENTION is directed to the advertisement of the old reliable nursery house of H. F. Hillenmeyer, Lexington. He will treat you right if you need any thing in his line.

THE C. S. will run excursion trains from Somerset and Cincinnati to the Lexington trolleys, 12 to 17, each arriving at Lexington at 11 a. m. and leaving about 7 in the evening.

ATTENTION HUNTERS.—The season is now at hand. I am now prepared to furnish you with everything you need for hunting—guns, loaded shells, shell and cartridge bags, shot, powder and caps, &c. My prices are right. W. B. McRoberts.

New timothy seed at J. B. Foster's. DRESSES cut and neatly made at Mrs. Phillips', on Danville Ave.

WANTED.—A good farm hand; must come well recommended. J. E. Bruce.

JIM CROW, colored, was given 5 days in jail for drunkenness and disorderly conduct by Judge Barnett, at Rowland, Tuesday.

THE members of the "M. P. C." Society, composed of a number of the younger little misses of the Female College, will give a masquerade ball at the home of Miss Edna Courts on Saturday evening.

A MARE belonging to Mr. E. B. Beazley, while hitched in front of J. B. Foster's store got tangled up in a plow standing near by and had two of her legs so badly cut that she will probably be unfit far use hereafter.

A GOOD tin shop is one of the urgent demands of this town and a good man could make it pay. There is a great deal more work than the shop we have can do, at least much more than it does.

W. E. PERKINS, the enterprising Crab Orchard merchant, is so well satisfied with the result of his three months' advertising last spring that he has engaged space in the I. J. again. He has just received his fall and winter stock, which he offers at a very small margin.

THE reception given by Misses Annie and Mary Alcorn to quite a number of their friends proved a most delightful occasion. The dance was engaged in, a splendid lunch was enjoyed and the Misses Alcorn, as usual, evinced the fact that they are charming hostesses.

JUDGE MORROW evidently did not agree with the jury in its verdict of two years against the negro, George Bridgeman, who was charged with cutting Hugh Rains, of this county, as the Advocate says he granted him a new trial and released him on his own recognizance.

THE local stockholders in President R. W. Hooper's Metropolitan National at Kansas City are smiling over the receipt of checks for a quarterly dividend of 13 per cent. The capital stock is $750,000, its deposits $992,443.26, surplus $47,845.71 and its loans and discounts $1,097,990.65.

HAVING bought out W. H. Brady's stock of groceries and confectionaries, intend to continue the business at his old stand and ask a share of the public patronage. Will add considerably to the stock bought, which will make my store compete in every particular. J. E. Nevinus.

THE attention of the ladies is called to the card of Mrs. Frank Matthews, who has established a purchasing agency at Chicago. Mrs. Matthews was Miss Sis Hicks, formerly of this place, and is a lady of well-known taste and judgment, and those who patronize her can do so with absolute confidence.

THE hop Tuesday evening, although not well attended on account of the inclement weather, was a very enjoyable one. Unfortunately for the young ladies, the boys were in the minority, something almost unprecedented in the history of thosphere, and the young men of course felt their importance. The Danville band furnished the music, which was fairly good.

OWING to the alleged unhealthfulness of the county judge's room, which is close by the jail, a change is to be made in the arrangement of the first floor of the Court-house. The county court is to be moved to the office side and made larger by knocking out the partition dividing the county judge's office from the commissioner's and the two offices are to be made out of the county court-room. The entire cost of the change will be less than $60.

W. M. WELSH, through his attorneys, Miller & Owsley, have instituted suit against John S. Hughes and Dr. J. F. Peyton for $5,000, the amount they contracted to pay him for land and water privileges and $5,000 damages for failure to build the water works. The town is yet to be heard from on the damage question, but it will likely come to the front in due season. Perhaps we can get enough damages to build the works without the aid of a contractor.

THE grand jury at Somerset is the first that Judge Morrow has had empanelled since the new constitution reduced the number to 12. In his charge the judge impressed upon the jury the importance of investigating fully the sheriff's assassination and the mob that hanged the alleged assassins, saying that in the eyes of the law they are murderers. The second trial of young Doolin and Cope, for killing Will Watson at a S. S. picnic was in progress at last accounts.

EWING DIDN'T WIDEN IT.—The Madisonville Hustler says: The report as published by The Hustler last week that the screen at the Providence coal mines had been widened, is false. The cause of the strike by the white miners was for want of a standard screen, which the mines had never had, and not because the screen had been tampered with by Mr. Hayden. Instead of the bars of the screen being 1½ inches apart, as it is in the standard, they are 1¾ inches apart. The matter has, however, been amicably adjusted and the miners have gone to work.

ATTENTION HUNTERS.—The season is now at hand. I am now prepared to furnish you with everything you need for hunting—guns, loaded shells, shell and cartridge bags, shot, powder and caps, &c. My prices are right. W. B. McRoberts.

MR. J. P. CROW, of the firm of Crow & Co., McKinney, tells us that he will begin soon the erection of a fine brick store-house in the place of the one burned and will furnish it with the finest fixtures ever brought to this section.

THE excursion train to the Lebanon trestles from Lancaster passed through both mornings without a passenger. Today is the last, when it is hoped it will have better luck. Capt. Pat Gallager and Phil Soden are in charge of the train.

SETTLED PROMPTLY.—Mr. A. K. Murry, State agent of the Phoenix Insurance Company, has settled very satisfactorily with me for my recent loss by fire and I take pleasure in recommending his company to those thinking of insuring. J. P. Crow.

MY fall and winter stock is now complete and embraces the novelties of both the Cincinnati and Louisville markets, and I cordially invite the ladies of Stanford and vicinity to call and inspect the most elegant line ever brought to Stanford. Miss Annie Wray.

MR. BEN SMITH, who was so fearfully beaten up in his watermelon patch, some time ago, has recovered sufficiently to go to Lexington with his brother, who is a prominent citizen of that place. The old gentleman's mind is in a fearful state and his brother will send him to a private asylum. Mr. Smith claims that a respectable darkey who lived in the Hubble vicinity years ago, did the dastardly deed, but his friends believe nothing of the sort, and as the old negroe has not been seen for years his assertion is credited to the bad condition of his mind.

THE L. & N. has suffered two bad wrecks on this division this week, apparently from the gross carelessness of flagmen. At Pittsburg Monday night, a tail end collision between an extra and freight 29, mashed up an engine and splintered 10 cars. It is said that the flagman, whose duty it was to go back 35 telegraph poles, only went 11 and then sat down to play a game of cards. At Knob Lick, Tuesday morning, the first section of 34 broke in two while ascending the hill from Hanging Fork and the rear end was stopped with the caboose standing on Knob Lick bridge. A flagman sent back only went nine telegraph poles, which was too short a distance for Engineer Mike Coyle, of the second section, to stop as he had on a full head of steam to climb the hill. The result was that his engine crushed into the caboose, knocking it and three empty cars to pieces, but fortunately they did not leave the track till off the bridge. Mr. Coyle jumped and striking the abutment of the bridge fell down to the bed of the creek, injuring his back considerably. The wreck was cleared by a little after noon and the delay in the passenger trains was not great.

THE court of claims, after a session of three days, adjourned Wednesday at noon. The amount of claims allowed is in round numbers $10,000, which is $2,000 less than last year. A good deal of the reduction is from road claims. In 1890 they were $1,800; this year of the $1,331 claimed, only $961 were allowed. The claim of A. M. Feland for lawyer and other fees in his suit against White and others was allowed. The claim of Owsley, brought in the circuit court to enjoin the sheriff from paying over the money to the defendants, White and others. The suit has created much interest and its outcome will be closely watched.
